

Rijksdienst voor de monumentenzorg

FUNDING HISTORIC BUILDINGS THE DUTCH WAY

EUROPEAN HERITAGE SUMMIT

London

April 26-28 th 2006

Jan van de Voorde

(temporary-)director of The Netherlands Department for Conservation (RDMZ) and the Dutch International Service for Archaeological Heritage (ROB)

THE RDMZ INTEGRATES KNOWLEDGE OF THE BUILT ENVIRONMENT, DISSEMINATES IT AND PROMOTES A HIGH-QUALITY PRESERVATION OF THIS PART OF THE CULTURAL HERITAGE.

Historic buildings give a town, village or landscape their own typical character and beauty. They are the tangible reminders of our past. The Netherlands Department for Conservation (RDMZ) is the central point for advice, research and know-how in the field of monuments. The most important task is the protection and conservation of monuments. Not only historic buildings are protected, but also the historical environment, such as townscapes and valuable landscapes. This task is regulated in the Historic Buildings and Ancient Monuments Act 1988.

HF

VAN BERLAGE

CONCERT

BEURS VAN BERLAGE

BEURS VAN BERLAGE

KORF

16-L-02

RACM: Department, controlled by Ministry of Education, Culture and Science
English Heritage: Integrated agency & board of commissioners, non-departmental body, independent voice, direct responsibility to Parliament.

Some comparing figures

Heritage:

RACM: 55,000 state monuments
1,400 archaeological sites
350 listed city- and townscapes
40,000 municipal monuments

UK/ Engl. Herit.: 400,000 / 400

Budget:

RACM ca. 30 million euro & 46 million subsidy
English Heritage ca. 75 million euro

Employees:

RACM 300
English Heritage 2000

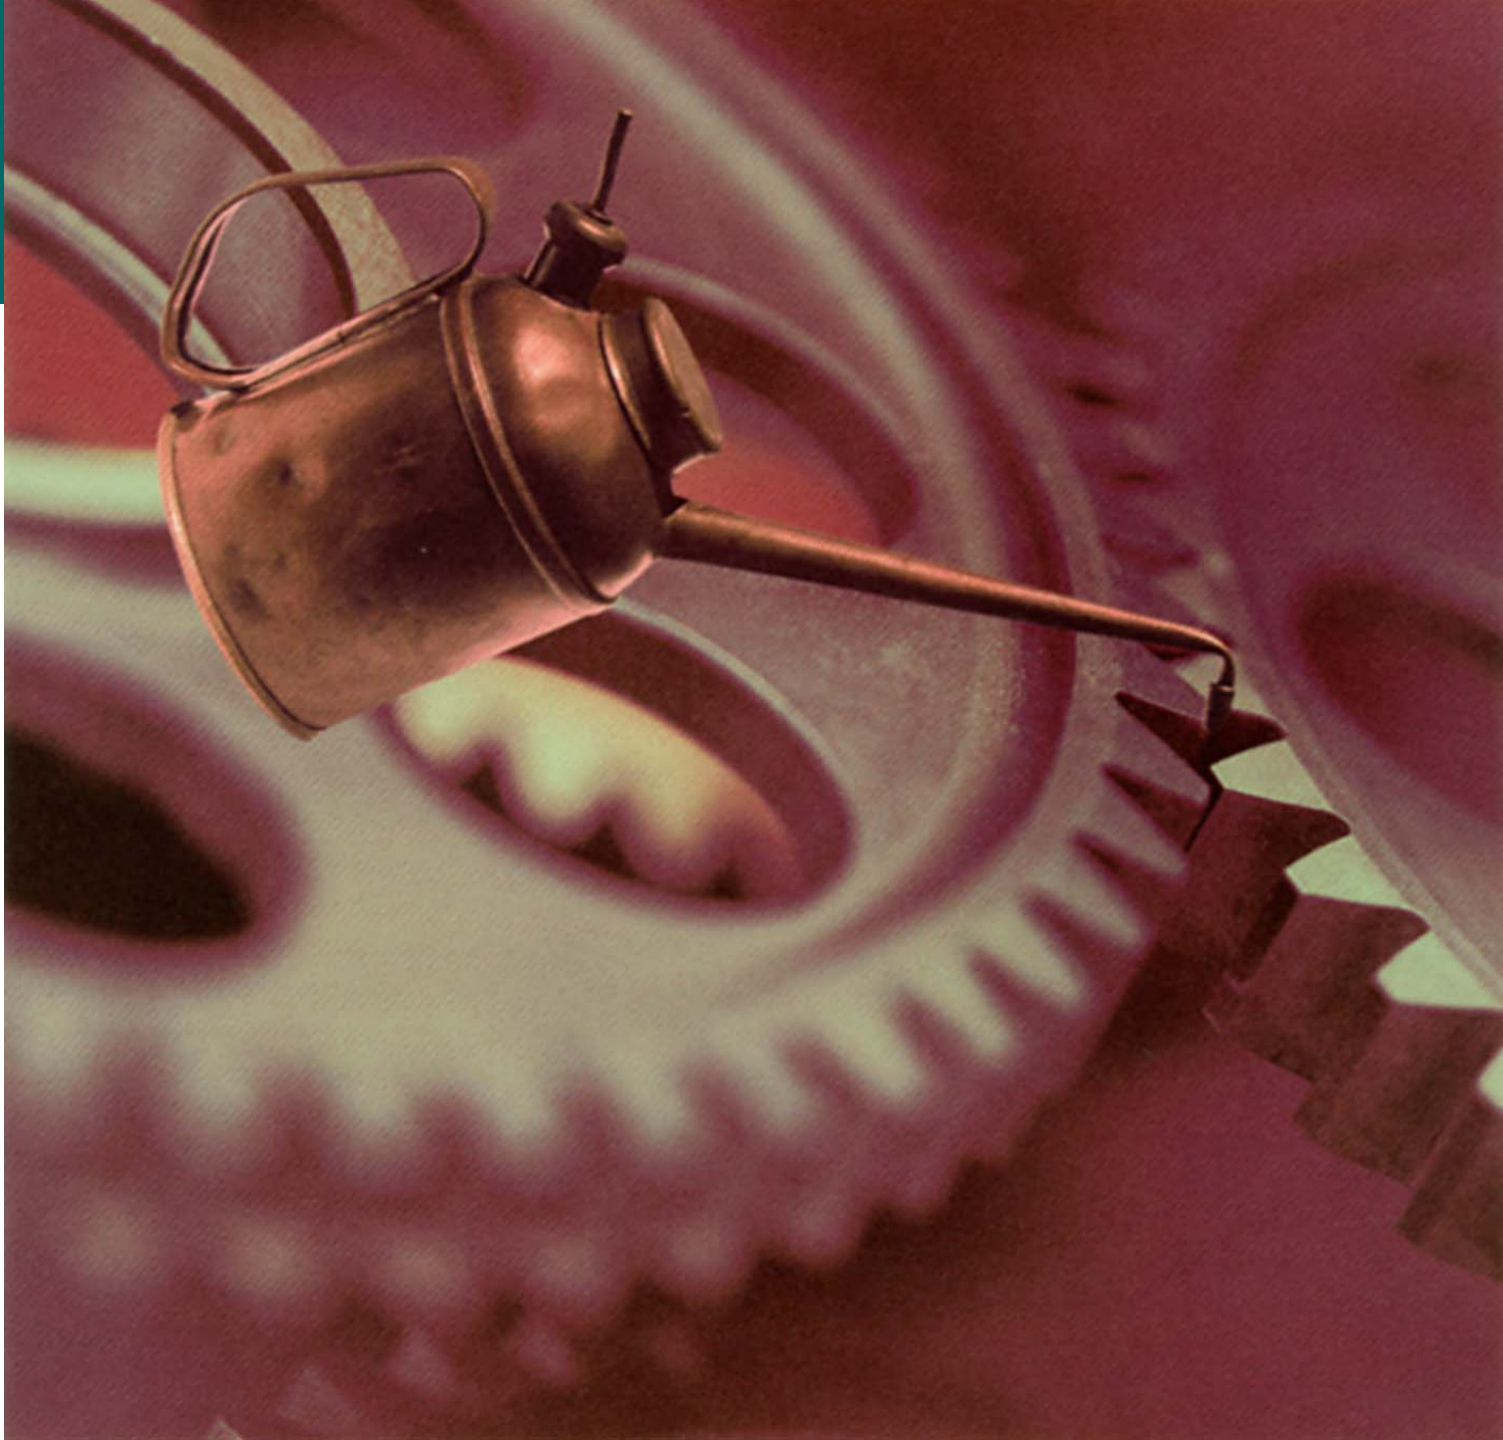

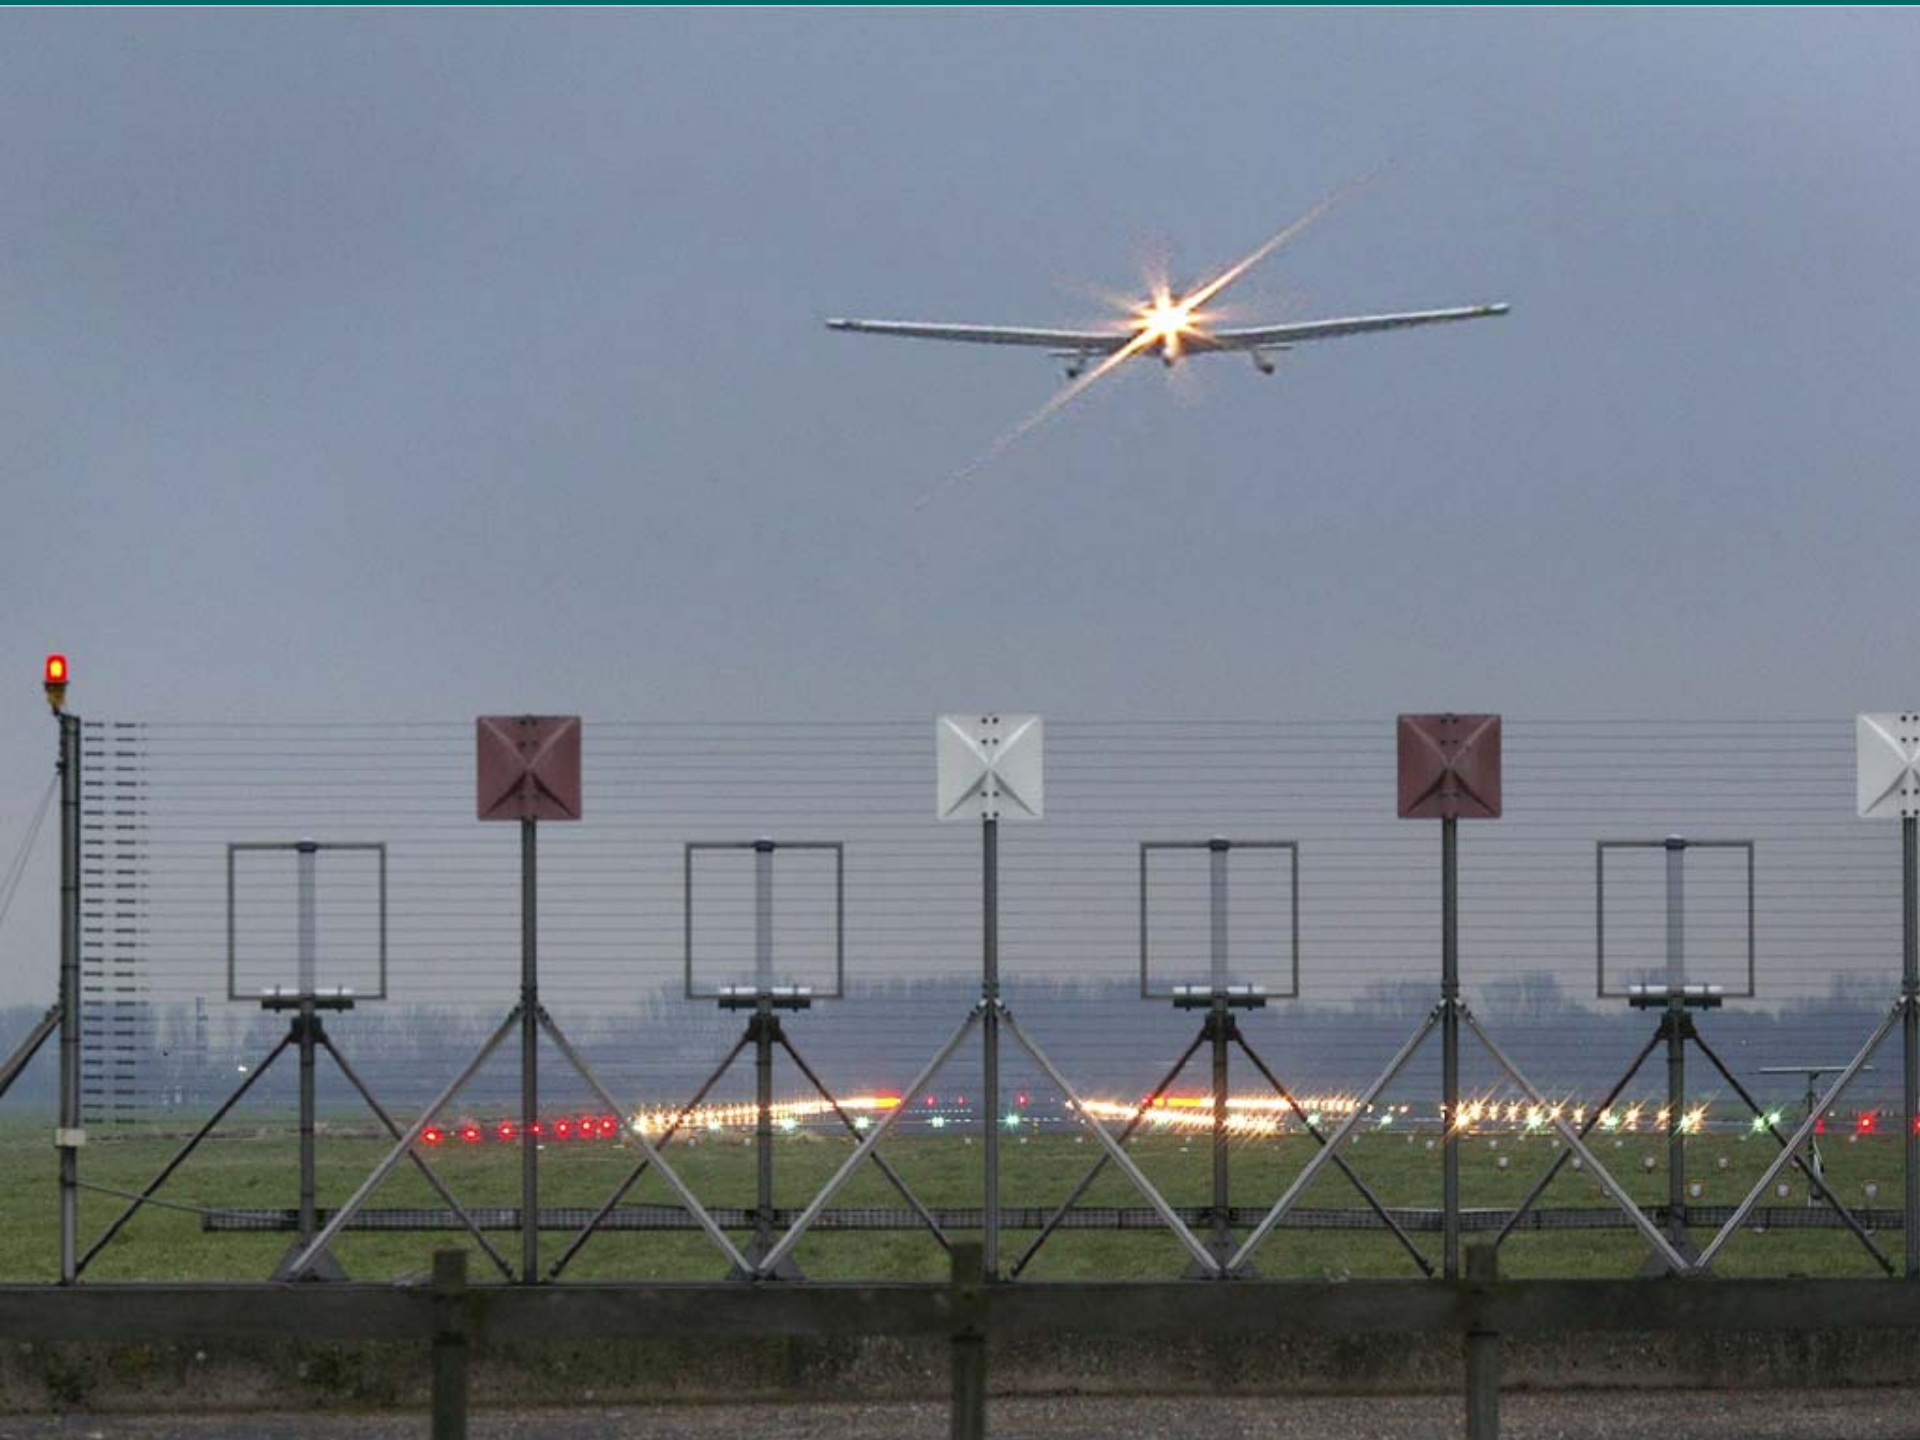

FUNDING = FUN

Thank you very much

WWW.MONUMENTENZORG.NL

WWW.ARCHIS.NL

WWW.RESTAURATIEFONDS.NL

